British Headquarters Attacked By Grenades in Jerusalem

Kitten Is Saved After Three Hours

A six-week old kitten was successfully extricated this morning at Abel's Market, 133 Hasbrouck avenue, when it fell and became lodged between a wall and ice box.

In order to save the animal, workers were forced to cut a hole through the side of the building and through the wall. Rescuers, who labored about three hours before the animal was taken out, were limited to about two inches of working space.

Those who effected the rescue were Bill Houghtaling, Sam Janzack, Art Roskoski, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Konowski, Jack Schiede and Tom Orr.

Blossom Festival Would Be Held if Plan Is Adopted

Would Have $1,000 Fund to Start Activities; Would Invite 7 Counties

An Apple Blossom Festival should be held in 1948 was decided at a meeting of the Area Relations Committee which was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night, at which representatives of the Retail Merchants Division and Ulster County Fruit Growers were in attendance. The meeting was sponsored by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

A recommendation that a $1,000 sinking fund be raised before any definite plans be made was proposed, and two plans were drawn up to raise the fund. One was that a hundred donations of $10 each be solicited from representative business organizations of local independent merchants, and from national firms operating in the Hudson valley area.

The other was to revive the Ulster County Apple Institute, Inc., which conducted previous Apple Blossom and Apple Harvest festivals.

A proposal was made to invite participation of Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange, Rockland, Schoharie and Sullivan counties, in addition to Ulster.

An executive committee to make preparations for the festival will be announced at another meeting which will be held the latter part of September or the first part of October. At this time a recommendation will be presented to this committee urging that the festival be in the form of a series of events for three week-ends during the blossom season.

It would also be suggested that each county crown its own Apple Blossom queen, with the Albert Kurdt, George Kernochan, Raymond Gross, James Rowe, Bob Case and Donald F. Williams, executive secretary of the local Chamber, who presided over the meeting in the absence of Louis B. Skeeter, area relations chairman.

B-29's Complete Flight.
Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Seven B-29 Superfortresses with 16 persons aboard flew over downtown Washington at noon (11 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) today, and headed for nearby Andrews Field and the finish of a one-stop 7,000-mile flight from Tokyo. The planes had spent 31 hours 24 minutes in the air.

Ford Company Offers Conditionally To Waive Taft-Hartley Law Protection

Detroit, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co., threatened by a strike of its 107,000 C.I.O. production workers, offered conditionally today to waive the Taft-Hartley labor law's court protection against union contract violations.

Ford's proposal, delivered personally by Henry Ford 2, chief president, to C.I.O. chief Philip Murray, was being weighed on the eve of a strike verdict by the C.I.O.'s United Auto Workers.

Attack Breaks When Soldiers, Police Begin Probes of Shootings

Jerusalem, Aug. 1 (AP)—Headquarters of the British Hampshire Regiment in Jerusalem was attacked with grenades and mortars today and one attacker was killed. No announcement was made concerning military casualties, if any.

The regimental headquarters is only 200 yards from the building of the Jewish Agency. The attack came as British soldiers and Palestine police launched twin investigations of shooting last night in the all-Jewish metropolis of Tel Aviv in which five Jews were killed and a score of others were injured.

The shootings were a sequel to the hanging of two British soldiers by the Jewish underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi. The dead terrorist lay in the street before the building with a grenade clutched in his hand. Two other suspected attackers were captured alive. Military sources said there were at least four mortar grenade explosions. It was believed the mortar was hidden in a building nearby. A general alarm was sounded bringing British troops to action stations through the tense city.

Heavy Gunfire.
Heavy gunfire was heard immediately after the explosions. The area and Hampshire headquarters was cordoned off and a house to house search was begun.

A reliable informant said the shootings in Tel Aviv last night were the work of soldiers in armoured cars who evidently were intent upon avenging the hanging of 20-year-old Sgt. Clifford Martin and a British soldier. The sergeant's funeral, with several high military and civil officials attending, were held today in Ramle Military Cemetery. A booby trap mutilated the men's bodies.

Letter Misleading, Kurdt Declares

Woman Takes Issue With Veterans; May Have Overstated Case

A letter which appeared recently in the "Voice of the People" column of the New York Daily News, datelined Ulster, and signed by a Mary A. Henderson, has stirred considerable excitement in the metropolitan area, according to Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent.

The letter read: "I read with considerable amusement and some skepticism, not to mention naivete, a recent story about the poor New York veterans who have to live in a flat, ad infinitum. If such cheap exhibitionists really wanted to solve their problems they could find plenty of work and opportunity in this part of the country. In Ulster county alone many top-notch dairy farms have had to sell out for lack of help, at $1 an hour, with house, etc. furnished as well. Naturally it's hard work."

Mercury's Drop Breaks Records; Lower Tonight

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—Low temperature records were broken today when the mercury dipped into the forties. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted lower temperatures tonight. New records were set in Syracuse, Buffalo and Rochester where the temperature fell to 46, 47 and 48 degrees. Previous lows were 48 in 1912 at Syracuse, 47 in 1924 at Buffalo and 49 in 1918 at Rochester.

The drop followed 90 degree heat in most of the state earlier in the week.

Filipinos to Give Testimony in Case Of H. E. Hirshberg

Defense Queries Former Sergeant, Who Says Defendant Aided His Fellows

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—Defense counsel for Chief Signalman Harold E. Hirshberg, 29, charged by the navy with mistreating fellow prisoners in Japanese prison camps, said at his court martial trial today that three Filipinos would come here to testify in Hirshberg's behalf next week.

Lt. Cmdr. John J. O'Neill, the defense counsel, said two Filipino men and one Filipino woman would leave Manila by plane next Monday to testify at the trial in Brooklyn Navy Yard. He did not disclose their identities.

As the defense resumed testimony, Lawrence J. Jordan, 27, of Chicago, a former army sergeant and survivor of the Bataan march, declared that Hirshberg "frequently" interceded with Japanese prison guards to permit ill prisoners to rest.

"Did you ever see Hirshberg give unreasonable treatment to any man?" O'Neill asked.

"I did not," Jordan replied. "Hirshberg carried out orders given by the Jap guards." He added that prisoners were required to take all orders which the Japanese passed through American section leaders.

Jordan testified that he often heard Hirshberg report instances of illness to Japanese guards so that sick men could rest, adding "He did it frequently."

Jordan also testified that during the Bataan death march 10 American prisoners were shot after one man escaped and the prisoners were warned that men would be shot on a 10-1 ratio for each that escaped. One navy specification against Hirshberg was that he reported the alleged escape plan of a man the navy claimed was later tortured to death.

Eileen Says Dodger Town Not So Hot

Anyone Can Have Brooklyn, She Says; Prefers Farm 'Outside Kingston'

Even the unpredictable Brooklyn Dodgers, who are now riding at the top of the National League, fail to dampen the deep love Eileen Pfeister, 15, of 231 Schenck avenue, Brooklyn, possesses for the country, especially a little farm some miles outside of Kingston.

Miss Pfeister's distaste for the throbbing Borough of Brooklyn became evident in no uncertain terms a little while ago when the young, pretty blonde quietly slipped away and landed up in Boston.

However, even Boston is not her true love. She went there, not because she likes that thriving city, but because she likes Brooklyn so little.

'Likes Local Boys'
In the opinion of Eileen, people can have everything south of the East River including the Brooklyn boys who are just "too loud" in her belief. "I like the boys in the country better, the boys near Kingston where we always used to go in the summers," the Brooklyn girl explained.

All of Brooklyn's scenic features including the Dodgers and Ebbets Field, Prospect Park, Borough Hall, Coney Island do not measure up to Eileen's standards as a place to enjoy one's self.

Dog in Country.
Her heart actually belongs to the country, particularly that little farm near Kingston where she and her young sister have spent many summers. Even Eileen's dog is in the country now and that doesn't make her feel any better.

Her ideal is to tie herself off to the country for the year round. She wouldn't mind going to some country school and would like to raise dogs.

F.D.R.'s Son Altered Top Rank Order

Decision Was Delivered by General Arnold That No Action Be Taken

Echols Was 'Told' General Was Ordered to Cooperate With Elliott

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Echols testified today that Elliott Roosevelt picked a Howard Hughes' plane as the best available for wartime photo-reconnaissance work after the air force high command turned it down in 1943.

Echols, wartime chief of the air corps material command, told the Senate War Investigating Committee that the son of the late President Roosevelt in effect reversed the decision of the air corps' best experts.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) commented that the committee has been unable to find any air corps records dealing with the experimental plane between July, 1942, and the end of June, 1943.

Echols said there probably were none because Hughes was conducting his own development. He added that late in June, 1943, he made a report on performance and possible production of the Hughes plane at the request of General H. H. Arnold, the commanding general of the air forces.

While the general was testifying, committee aides told reporters that the young Roosevelt had been scheduled to testify before the committee on Monday.

Summoned From Europe.
Echols, now retired from the army, related that Elliott was summoned home from his post as chief of reconnaissance work in Europe to look over various types of planes. He said the action was taken after complaints were received that the types available in the European theatre were not satisfactory.

After a tour of the nation's plane plants, Echols said Roosevelt returned to say "that of all the planes he had seen, it was his conviction that the Hughes airplane, modified, would be the most suitable type."

Echols testified that on August 24, 1943, shortly before Roosevelt's return, General Arnold had taken no further action in his efforts to sell his plane to the army.

Dewey Concludes Western Tour; 400 Votes Seen 'in Bag'

Total of 547 Is Necessary for Nomination in '48; Taft Strongest Contender

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today (Friday) wound up a western tour which friends confidently declare has increased his backing for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

As the New York state train reached Albany, associates told reporters they believed about 400 votes are now assured for Dewey on the first ballot in the G.O.P. nominating convention. It will require 547 to nominate.

They also made it clear they regard Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio at this stage as the leading prospective contender against Dewey.

Along that line, they said: Dewey probably will not go on the hustings outside New York again this year unless it appears that support for Taft is making strong headway.

Neither Dewey nor Taft has yet said he definitely will be a candidate. The only avowed candidate is former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Pilgrim Furniture Contract Is Signed

A contract agreement between Carpenters Union, Local 1545 and the Pilgrim Furniture Company was officially signed this morning.

DeWitt B. Quick, representative of the union, and Joseph J. DeWitt, representative of the company, signed the papers which were delivered to him at 10 a. m. today from the office of N. LeVan Haver, attorney for the furniture company and that settlement of a prolonged dispute between the company and the union was not officially settled until today.

The agreement, Quick said, calls for a retroactive pay increase from April 8. The general increase, he said, will be about 15 per cent.

Library Fair Nets $3,340; Attracts Largest Throng

Woodstock's 20th Annual Fund-Raising Party Poses Traffic Problems

Woodstock, Aug. 1—The traditional downpour of rain in the middle of the afternoon did not dampen the spirits of the thousands and more persons attending the 20th Annual Woodstock Library Fair on the Library Green Thursday afternoon. To some extent, however, it did affect the proceeds which Walter S. Van Wageningen, president, announced at the end of the fair as being approximately $3,340. It was hoped that the receipts would total $4,000 and it is possible that such may be the case when the final count is made.

The largest crowd ever to attend a Library Fair was present on this festive occasion. It was a jolly affair, where everybody and his neighbor gathered early on the green dressed in gayly colored clothes to see the attractive booths and their contents. From the beginning of Woodstock village to Bearsville, cars were lined up on both sides of the road and on the side streets. Officer Duane and State Trooper Dunn said they had never before seen anything in Woodstock to equal the traffic of the day.

Mrs. John Harrison had appropriately named and decorated her refreshment booth, The Polar Bar. A beautiful polar bear made out of cardboard and painted by Mrs. Harrison was mounted on an eye-looking canopy over the booth. The children's toy table with Mrs. S. T. Taft Heads for Trip to Canada

Raps Truman's Foreign and Domestic Policies

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

Columbus, O., Aug. 1 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft, bearing the endorsement of fellow Ohio Republicans for his party's presidential nomination, headed for a five weeks' Canadian vacation today after delivering a blistering attack on President Truman's foreign and domestic policies.

Sounding the keynote of a far-western speaking tour beginning in California next month, Taft declared at a big home-coming rally last night that Mr. Truman is following a "befuddled foreign policy" which is "still dominated by the principles of the C.I.O." and has failed to cooperate with the Republican-controlled Congress.

Nearly 1,300 Republicans, including some from neighboring states and one from far off Texas, demonstrated twelve times during the speech, which was broadcast over 250 C.B.S. radio stations. Taft said the Republican Party's domestic policies "will always be sabotaged and opposed by a Democratic executive administration." He added that the only way to "do the job as it should be done" and, also, correct the present foreign policy is to elect a Republican president next year. He predicted the people "will do so."

Taft's jibes at the administration's foreign policy came as a surprise to some of his listeners, in view of the leadership for bipartisan cooperation on this front taken by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), a possible rival in the 1948 national convention. However, none would comment for publication.

Taft asserting he is "not happy about the country's foreign policy," said the United States, through agreements made by the late President Roosevelt at Yalta and Potsdam, "practically abandoned all of the ideals for which the war was fought."

Discussing the Marshall plan, Taft said and applause that his party is interested in loans to enable foreign countries "to go to work and help themselves. But I believe those loans hereafter should be confined to actual goods, machinery and equipment necessary to enable the countries which receive them to restore their own protective ability."

bodies as they were being removed yesterday from two eucalyptus trees north of Tel Aviv near Nanyang.

The funerals of the five Jews killed in Tel Aviv, all Jewish coastal city northwest of Jerusalem, were scheduled there at 2 p. m. Mayor Israel Rokach called for a two-hour work stoppage afterward in mourning for the five.

Tel Aviv informant said at least eight armored cars opened fire in the city last night. The shooting was said to have lasted several hours.

The informant said soldiers fired on two buses, killing two women, two men and a young boy and wounded other Jews, and smashed store windows all along one street causing property damage of $100,000. The outbreak followed reports of the clubbing and stoning of seven Jews by five Britons riding in a jeep.

Hagan, armed force of the official Jewish agency, was represented by a Jewish source as fearing that the Extremist underground might attempt still more acts of reprisal for the hanging at Acre Prison Tuesday of young Irgunists Meir Nakar, Absalom Habib and Yacoub Weiss.

This source said Hagan's officers had ordered their self-styled Jewish National Defense Army to stand by throughout Palestine in the belief that the Stern Gang, offshoot of Irgun, Zvai Leumi, might try to kidnap other British soldiers.

Kidnaped July 12
Palestine and Martin were kidnaped from Nanyang July 12. In notes pinned to their flesh, Irgun spoke of a "military execution" but the hanging was taken as retaliation for the executions of the Irgunists convicted of participation in the Acre prison break May 4 in which 16 persons were killed.

British authorities met here yesterday to plan new measures against violence and one said some form of military control was probable unless the Jewish agency cooperated fully in the campaign. Later a spokesman said the agency had pleaded with the government not to apply "contempted punitive measures" which he said had failed.

The Jewish Agency and the larger National Council (Vaad Leumi) in a joint statement yesterday termed the soldier hangings "dastardly murder."

But my son, a veteran para-rooper of the 82d Airborne, went to work eight hours after his discharge, and is still working. Show this to your crybabies!

The aforementioned letter resulted in a number of messages being forwarded to Kurdt, all requests for placement on farms or in day camps.

One woman, with a husband and five children, wrote requesting a position as caretaker on a farm in this area, adding that her husband was a welder and will be efficient in repairing farm machinery and other things on a farm.

Another young man, a veteran of World War 2, with a wife and a child, said that he was not experienced in farm work but was willing to learn as he is a conscientious worker.

These are but two of several requests received by Kurdt, who said that he expects many more such letters. He is doing all in his power to try to place these people throughout the county, but added that Mary Henderson's estimate of $1 per hour is a bit misleading as far as steady, permanent work is concerned.

cans for the nomination, has announced he will decide after a fall trip through the west.

He headed for a five-week Canadian vacation today after a major political speech at a "Taft rally" attended by nearly 1,300 Republicans in Columbus last night.

That address, perhaps baring the campaign line Taft would follow if nominated, hammered at President Truman's foreign and domestic policies.

Taft called the administration's foreign policy "befuddled." He said in the domestic field Mr. Truman is "still dominated by the principles of the C.I.O." and has failed to cooperate with the Republican-controlled Congress.

Hit-Run Drivers Are Captured by State Troopers

Harry M. Kneel, Walter Panpaliano Accused of Part in Fatal Accident

A search for the two men who fled from an accident on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge, Hudson, early Monday morning, after the stolen car in which they were riding struck another, and killed one of the passengers, came to an end last night, State Police of the Claverack Barracks told.

The fatal accident occurred at 2:30 a. m. Monday morning, after the stolen car in which they were riding struck another, and killed one of the passengers, came to an end last night, State Police of the Claverack Barracks told.

Harry M. Kneel, 22, of Richmond Hill, Queens, who was a passenger in the stolen car, was apprehended at Acre yesterday by Sergeant C. W. Wickham of the Claverack Barracks, and Troopers F. Knight and H. McCabe of the Catskill station and is being held as a material witness in the Columbia county jail, Hudson.

Walter Panpaliano, 28, of Hoboken, N. J., driver of the car which was stolen from East Dutchess county, was arrested yesterday by the State Police there as a fugitive from justice.

Panpaliano will be returned to the Hudson jail on August 6 for trial.

The stolen car, a 1942 Dodge owned by Orloff Barlow of East Dutchess, crashed into a Plymouth sedan operated by Charles Murphy of Hudson, killing William J. Brady, 77, also of Hudson, who was riding in the back seat with his son Joseph, 44, Joseph and Murphy's wife, who was in the front seat, sustained minor injuries.

Panpaliano and Kneel fled from the scene of the accident on foot.

Maverick Festival To Be Held Aug. 23; Meeting August 11

Woodstock, Aug. 1—The Maverick Festival, Woodstock, will be held August 23, it was announced this afternoon.

Mrs. Edward L. Chase, chairman, has called a meeting for August 11 at the Maverick Concert Hall for all who are interested in the revival of the famed festival. The festival this year will be in the nature of a memorial to the late Hervey White, father of the gala event, the first of which was held in 1915. They were discontinued 16 years ago.

Proceeds from the event will be distributed to worthy organizations in the village "in the spirit of Hervey White." Mr. White annually used the proceeds of the festival to assist worthy persons and organizations.

Participating in the 1947 Festival will be members of the Woodstock Artists Association.

Democrats Name James M. Murphy Coroner Candidate

Seven votes in the Sixth ward won the Democratic nomination for coroner for James M. Murphy, local undertaker, it was learned today following further compilation of primary day returns at the election board office.

The unofficial Democratic convention had left vacant the nomination for coroner and the primary designation places the local man officially on the ticket.

Sixteen write-ins for coroner were reported in the Democratic primary balloting, and the next highest on the ticket was Jesse McHugh, Republican nominee for the office, who received five votes in scattered districts.

Dr. L. G. Rymph and Jesse McHugh tied in the balloting for the nomination on the American Labor party ticket which leaves the party without a nominee for that office.

No Injuries Sustained
A faulty steering gear which sent a car operated by Carmine Marino, 185 Fullerton avenue, Newburgh, into a street sign at the corner of Abel and Wurts streets at the foot of the Rondout Creek Bridge early Thursday evening resulted in no personal injuries and only slight damage to the vehicle, the police reported today. The Newburgh man was driving a 1947 convertible model. Officers Burns and Schoonmaker investigated the accident.

Fletcher Says Car Drivers Cause Most Road Tragedies

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—"Human failures cause far more tragedies on the road than mechanical defects" and the automobile driver must continue to be the principal target of safety promotion, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said today.

Cars in the one-year-old classification are involved in one of every eight accidents, Fletcher declared in a prepared address at the 24th annual convention of the New York State Automobile Dealers, Inc.

The organization's president, Carl E. Fribble, speaking yesterday before the board of directors, charged the Dewey administration with "procrastination and politics" in what he called the problem of highway traffic safety.

Fribble criticized the governor for not appointing a state safety director, authorized by the 1946 legislature, and rapped the last legislature for not adopting a system of compulsory automobile inspection.

Fletcher praised the dealers for their cooperation in making the dealer registration law effective. "Because of this law, I am satisfied that fewer under-par vehicles are being turned loose on our highways and that hazards of vehicular defects are being lessened," he said.

The great bulk of accidents involves vehicles more than six years old, Fletcher added. "Nevertheless, I must point out to you that cars in the one-year-old classification are involved in one of every eight accidents today," the commissioner continued.

"The point is that a new car is no guarantee of safe driving and that our chief fundamental problem remains that of educating and regulating the driver. We must not lose sight of the fact for one moment that human failures cause far more tragedies on the road than mechanical defects," Fletcher asserted.

Motor vehicle registrations for the first five months of 1947 totaled more than 2,600,000, nearly 10 per cent greater than last year and the highest for a five-month period on record.

Fletcher reported that there had been a decline in automobile fatalities of nearly 16 per cent in the first five months of this year, from 792 for that period in 1946 to 668 this year.

Central to Open Radio Telephone Service on Train

The New York Central System announced plans to begin experimental operation in October of radio telephone service on the crack Twentieth Century Limited throughout the 436-mile run between New York and Buffalo.

The two-way radio service, which will link the Century with any Bell System telephone, will be extended along the Central's main line all the way to Chicago as soon as sufficient Bell System radio stations are available along the railroad right-of-way. The latest information is that this will be about the end of this year.

F. H. Baird, general passenger traffic manager of the Central, added that the railroad plans to expand the radio telephone service to cover its other principal trains to and from Detroit and other mid-western points as soon as technical details are perfected. The road arranged more than a year ago for a special radio telephone room in two new lounge-barber-secretary cars, now under construction as a part of ultra-modern equipment for the Century.

Arrangements on rates for the service have not been completed, but they are expected to be based on land rates plus a relatively modest additional charge to cover the radio transmission and reception cost.

The new service is expected to be the first railroad operation in the channels assigned to general highway mobile radio use in the 30-44 megacycle band. Radio telephone service between New York and Washington, also scheduled to start this year on railroads operating over the 225-mile distance between those cities, will be on the channels assigned for urban service in the 152-162 megacycle band.

Calls to and from the Century will be routed through the nearest of the nine Bell System general highway mobile band fixed stations now being erected between New York and Buffalo. Transmissions from the Century, using frequency modulation and a specially designed antenna, will be on 43.66 megacycles, and similar transmissions from the Bell System stations to the speeding train will be on 35.66 megacycles.

The Bell System fixed stations for train and general highway mobile radio service are being constructed at New York; on a hill near Peekskill; Kingston; Guilderland, south of Albany; Ponda; Utica; Syracuse; Rochester; and at Buffalo.

Poughkeepsie Student Killed in Accident

Hamilton, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—Two Colgate University students were killed early today when their car failed to round a sharp curve and crashed against a tree.

The victims were identified by State Police at Oneida as Horace W. Whipple, 22, of 1210 Owasco road, Auburn, and Donald G. Van Wagner, 20, of 1340 Garden street, Poughkeepsie.

The accident occurred about 1 a. m. just outside the Hamilton village limits on the west side of Lake Moraine.

Both students were thrown from the car, which was demolished.

Clothes Rationing Was Prepared by Underground Staff

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—An "underground" O.P.A. staff disguised with a phony title and using code words prepared an abortive plan to ration clothing in 1943, a former O.P.A. economist disclosed today.

A companion plan called for "standardizing" a number of clothing items, according to Wilfred Carcel, former chief economist for the O.P.A.'s apparel branch. Carcel tells of the ill-fated plans in a history of wartime price controls on clothing, released today.

Work on the apparel rationing program began in March, 1942, Carcel wrote, as part of a new price control program planned for early 1943. A timetable proposed shoe rationing in February to be followed by textiles and apparel in April.

"With apparel rationing regarded as a virtual certainty," Carcel said, "the apparel rationing staff expanded considerably at the turn of the year."

"To maintain the utmost secrecy of plans and prevent the repetition of hoarding and buying sprees accompanying preparation of previous rationing programs, the staff went 'underground,' disguising itself as the 'Miscellaneous Products Division.'"

"Shoes, in office language, became 'oysters' and clothes were referred to as 'clams.' A clothes rationing stamp was devised, cleared, and sent to the printer."

"Since rationing was expected momentarily, a telegram announcing this fact was drafted and kept on hand. In code, it read: 'The clams are in the stew and we are in the soup.'"

When shoe rationing was ordered Feb. 7, 1943, rumors spread throughout the country that clothing would be rationed next, he recalled, adding:

"The result was a buying spree of alarming proportions. Clothing and department stores were literally stormed."

"The Office of Economic Stabilization frantically telephoned O.P.A. to have an apparel rationing plan ready within a day. But the War Production Board (W.P.B.) and the Office of Civilian Requirements took the position that retail inventories were sufficiently large to weather the buying spree."

Nevertheless, O.P.A. kept the plan on ice throughout the war, revised and ready for adoption at any time, Carcel said.

Nitrate Vessels Are Ordered Away From Manhattan

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle, who late yesterday ordered two ships carrying ammonium nitrate to leave the Port of New York, has directed the fire department's marine division to notify him of the approach of any ship carrying the fertilizer ingredient.

"I want to keep the Port of New York clear from this dangerous hazard," Quayle said, adding that recent explosions at Texas City and Brest, France, aboard ships carrying ammonium nitrate had "created a new situation." Both blasts cost heavily in lives and property.

The Madaket, carrying nearly 3,000 tons of ammonium nitrate loaded at Norfolk and destined for Bremerhaven, arrived here yesterday. The Molde, with a similar cargo, had arrived the day before.

Quayle said that his inspectors had found both ships carrying inflammable materials that increased the hazard of fire and explosion. These included varnish and lubricating oil, the inspectors said. Firemen were directed to wet down the docks.

Both ships were to be loaded here with general cargo but Brooklyn longshoremen declined to work there unless they received "ammunition pay," $3.30 an hour instead of $1.65, for the job. Owners of the Molde had rejected this demand at the time Quayle ordered the ships out of port.

No Arrest Possible

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP)—Police decided they couldn't arrest the driver of an automobile which crashed into a store and injured two men. The "driver" was three-year-old Albert Prokopovitch, Jr. Young Albert, who had climbed into his father's car and stepped on the starter, was unhurt but a man standing in front of the store was injured slightly and the boy's father fell trying to catch the moving automobile.

The U. S. Navy had a total of 319 active combatant vessels on January 1, 1947.

Tip from the Smart Sex

Who is it that's first to spot—and quickest to go for—a really fresh new fashion idea when it comes along?

The ladies, of course!

And who is it that, according to careful surveys, put Buick far ahead of its price class and up among the lowest-priced three when they name the car of their innermost choice?

The fair sex—but naturally!

And who is it, when you come right down to it, that gets the most practical use from enough stirring Fireball power to handle the day's travel-jobs without strain and struggle?

Who relishes most the restful ease of wide, cushy seats, and the blissful gentleness of all-coil springs that make rough roads well-mannered and good roads glass-smooth?

Who goes for a car big enough to be company-minded—yet light and easy enough in handling to park without a tussle, and flit shadow-light through market-hour traffic?

Who, good friends, has the family's smartest eye-for-a-buy—the shrewdest size-up of what's really good?

No one but the Lady of the Household!

So we toss out this thought to you menfolks:

Chances are that you've been hankering for the kind of thrill that lurks in this great-hearted, great-powered beauty.

You'd sort of like to get your hands on a car as big and mighty as this—if you thought the better half could be sold on it.

Take our tip—she's already sold. Favored as it is by red-blooded males, no Buick we've ever offered has won the smart sex quite like this one.

So why not pull a pleasant surprise some evening soon? Just come home and say, "Well, I placed an order for a Buick today. They're taking 'em with or without a car to trade."

Then watch her fall all over your neck!

Campers Return Today
From V. of A. Camp
At Pine Point, Me.

Thirty-one mothers and children from Kingston and 25 mothers and children from Newburgh are returning to their homes in this area today after spending 10 days at the Volunteers of America Camp in Pine Point, Me. Expenses for this camping trip were met by public contributions gathered by the Volunteers of America, except for a small amount given by a few of the mothers. There were no fees charged.

The camp building was at one time a hotel. It was obtained about 12 years ago by the Portland post of the Volunteers of America to be used as a summer camp. The building was remodeled so that on three floors of the main building there are rooms for family units. Another portion of the building was renovated into dormitories for boys and girls with shower rooms adjacent. The building is on a knoll about half a mile from the beach. The ocean is plainly visible over the adjoining cottages. Pine Point is two miles north of Old Orchard, where the concessionaires donate rides on certain days of each camp period to the campers.

Last year children from this area attended the Volunteers of America camp at Babylon, L. I., but it was thought they might enjoy the ocean bathing for a change. The camp will be occupied the entire month of August by children from the New England area.

Those from this area attending the camp are Mrs. Margaret Shults and baby Jean, Mrs. Schoonmaker, Ronald Schoonmaker, John Schoonmaker, Robert Schoonmaker, Betty Schoonmaker, Harry Jansen, Nancy Jansen, Billy Wands, Carol Wands, Sally Wands, Leroy Lane, Lorraine Lane, James Dermody, Donald Dermody, LeGrande Van Wagon, Lenore Van Wagon, Miriam Havens, Edith Havens, Etta Brant, Edith Brant, Ethelyn DeGroodt, Carolyn DeGroodt, Pearl Tyler, Viola Tyler, Robert Vertitis, Floyd Wicks, Billy Litts, Nancy Lowers, Nora Klonowski.

Granddaughter of Former
Rosendale Residents to Wed
Invitations have been received by friends and relatives to the wedding of Miss Jean Menetrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Menetrey of Oakville, Conn., to William Edwards of Watertown, Conn. The wedding will take place August 11 in the Watertown Congregational Church.
Miss Menetrey is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Woolsey, Oakville, Conn., formerly residents of Rosendale for a number of years.

Sessler-Stewart
Marion Stewart, 49 Cedar street, was united in marriage to Leo Sessler, 63 Hambrook avenue, July 26, by Leonard Albert, justice of the peace of Tillson. Attendants were Lillian Terwilliger and Henry Ritter, both of Tillson.

Mormon Services Here
Roy W. Dooxey of Philadelphia, president of the Eastern States Mission, will be a guest speaker at the Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints (Mormon) services Sunday morning at the American Legion Memorial Building, West O'Reilly street. DIVORCE COMPLICATIONS

The problem is this: "The bride-to-be parents have been divorced for a number of years. The girl lived with her mother until she went to college and then lived by herself while working in a large city. Her father (and his second wife) are giving this daughter her wedding, but the girl's own mother—who never re-married—also will be present. The wedding is being given in the city where the daughter works. (1) In whose name should the invitations be sent? (2) How should the three parents be seated in church? (3) Who should receive at the hotel?"

(1) Since the father is giving the wedding, it will be necessary that the invitations go out in his name and his present wife's names. (Mr. and Mrs. John Jones.). (2) The mother should be seated in the front row on the left of the aisle with members of her own family. The father's wife in the second row or possibly in the third where the father then joins her. (3) The father and his wife together receive at the door of the reception room. The mother receives in another part of the room.

Whether to Take or to Send

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) Should a gift be taken to an engagement party? (2) And what about to a large announcement party of a marriage? The marriage took place some months ago and is just being announced.

Answer: (1) Not unless it is the custom of your community to give an especial engagement gift—such as the "cup and saucer" of a former generation. (2) It would be better to send a wedding present before the party than to take one with you.

Correspondence for Guest of Honor

Dear Mrs. Post: I have noticed in this locality that the guest of honor at every party is given a corsage. Also, at a tea, the ladies who pour are given them. Is it a requirement of etiquette that flowers be given to these people or is this just local custom? If so, what is your opinion of it?

Answer: It is very definitely a local custom. But whether it is a practical one or not depends upon whether you live in a community of gardens.

Mrs. Post's Leaflet, "The Well-Dressed Woman," gives general advice for wearing hats and gloves, as well as slacks and shorts. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Stork Shower

A stork shower was given Mrs. Ernest Amarelle Monday at the home of Mrs. Irwin Zabel, 11 Lawrence street. Decorations were in pink and blue and gifts were placed under a large stork. Those attending were the Meses Harry Goyal, John Martin, Ethel Baisden, Marie Zabel, Evelyn Zeff, Irwin Zabel, Herman Boyle, Richard Smith, Stewart Campbell, Walter Tatarzewski, Roy Cooper, Gertrude Whitmore, James Souly, Raymond Conlin, Francis McCarty, Clyde Hornbeck and the Meses Helen Volk, Alice Mulhare, Edith Brown, Susie Heins, Jacqueline LeFever, Helen Finerty, Druille Leashy, Margaret Zeff, Drusille Sharon Leycraft, Anne Crantz, Lillian Masouch, Bernice Falatyn, Mary May, Gertrude Yerry and Ann Goral.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell of Riverdale, N. J., have been spending a few days with relatives in Kingston en route home from a trip to Canada. Wednesday evening they were guests of honor at a dinner party at the home of his sister, Mrs. Isaac Lawrence, 41 Staples street. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Kaercher and daughters, Janet and Carol Ann.

The Meses Ethel and Jane Maisterstock of 103 Hone street have returned from three weeks vacation at Cliff House, Lake Minnetonka.

Miss Isabel Gallagher, 30 Henry street, is vacationing in California.

Kolls-Rosenberg
Ella Rosenberg and William Kolls of 55 Hindsdale street were married July 16 by Percy Bush, justice of the peace, of 85 Yarmouth street, town of Ulster. Attendants were Herman von Ahnen and Paula von Ahnen.

For the family gathering on Sunday, a tongue provides good protein at a relatively sane price. Serve it with raisin sauce and new potatoes buttered and made fragrant with finely cut fresh parsley.

Tongue With Raisin Sauce

Use beef, veal, or lamb tongue. Scrub thoroughly and place in a large kettle, cover with boiling water, bring to a boil, skim and simmer covered until tender, adding about ½ teaspoonful salt per pound when half done. Allow 3 to 4 hours for veal tongue and 1 to 1½ hours for lamb tongue. Remove skin and root ends. Slice. Serve with raisin sauce.

Raisin Sauce

One-third cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste, 1 1/3 cups boiling water, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon fat. Mix dry ingredients, add water and vinegar gradually while stirring. Simmer slowly 10 minutes. Add raisins and cook 2 minutes; add fat.

For Sunday supper serve this salad with hot biscuits:

Pineapple-Cottage Cheese Salad (Serves 6)

Split a large pineapple in half lengthwise. Remove the core and cut out the pulp, leaving only the rind with a thin inside layer of fruit. Cut the pulp which has been removed into small cubes and wedges. Mix the pineapple cubes with about 2 cups cottage cheese, salted to taste, and pile lightly in the pineapple shell. Garnish with pineapple wedges and raspberries or blackberries. Serve at once, before pineapple juice makes the cheese watery.

SUNDAY MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, country sausage, blueberry griddle cakes, butter or fortified margarine, syrup, coffee, milk.
DINNER: Watermelon balls, tongue with raisin sauce, parsleyed new potatoes, lima beans, jellyed tomato and corn salad on lettuce, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, blueberry roll, hard sauce, coffee, milk.
SUPPER: Sliced boiled ham, pineapple-cottage cheese salad, hot biscuits, butter or fortified margarine, stewed blackberries, tea, milk.

Brides Advised To Notify Social Security Office

Summer brides who are continuing to work in jobs covered by the Social Security Act—jobs in factories, stores, offices and similar business or industrial establishments—should notify the Social Security Administration of their new names, Jerome S. Blumberg, manager of the Social Security Administration at Kingston stated today.

"The reporting of changes in name by reason of marriage, divorce or otherwise is necessary so that the Social Security Administration can maintain the worker's wage record under one account number," Mr. Blumberg said. "It is also important because it means full benefit rights when the worker retires or dies. Benefits are payable not only to persons who attain age 65, but also to the families of wage earners who die before that age."

Went Out, Shoes and All

Los Angeles, Aug. 1 (AP)—Can a bride count on keeping her husband by polishing his shoes for him? That question was answered in Superior Court as Mrs. Theresa Lytle received a divorce from Earl Lytle, Jr., 29. She told the court she considered it her wife's duty to keep his shoes looking nice. Then 44 days after their marriage, she said he went out of her life—shoes and all.

Strip-Mined Sand Dune Areas Being Reclaimed With Trees

By LAWRENCE N. ELDRED
Chicago, Aug. 1 (AP)—Millions of once productive acres, long left for dead or dying, now are being nursed back to health, an Associated Press survey shows.

The comeback of the wasteland is valued at millions of dollars a year and is taking place in cut-over timberlands, strip-mined coal producing areas, overgrazed grasslands and pastures, sand dune tracts, and over-cropped regions.

In New England, the middle west, local residents and various governmental agencies have combined forces to recapture lost lands. Some of the land is going into forests for lumber and paper, some into grass for cattle.

F. A. Fisher, Milwaukee, Wis., directing land utilization projects for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, in eight north central states, declares there are 48,000,000 acres of submarginal land now in cultivation throughout the nation which should be retired to other uses, such as range, timber, wildlife sanctuaries, and recreational facilities.

This is in addition to the 282,000,000 acres estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as already lost through wind and water erosion.

Paul O. Rudolph, U. S. forester at St. Paul, Minn., declared, "If all the land needing reforestation were planted on a sustained yield management plan, paper and lumber shortages would vanish." (Such a plan means taking out trees as they ripen and replanting a young tree for each old one removed.)

Reforestation experts claim the future of the newsprint, paper, and lumber industries in the middle-west lies in the drive to plant 12,500,000 acres of trees in Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Wisconsin pulp mills now must bring in cordwood from Idaho and Oregon and also must import from Canada.

A fifth of Wisconsin's industrial workers are employed in pulp, paper, and lumber mills, but the $300,000,000 annual sales are in jeopardy because of the dwindling source of supply.

Typical of the new "plant to prosper" campaign taking place on the cut-over timber areas of the three states is what is being done around Spooner, Wis. There crawler type tractors draw tree-planting machines which can prepare the earth and plant 15,000 trees a day.

In Indiana some 45,000 acres of strip-mined land are being converted from waste to worth.

Strip mine land at DuQuoin, Ill., is being turned into pastureland for beef cattle. Flying over the rugged terrain one plane seeded 600 acres in eight hours by sowing 50-foot swaths from the air.

In New Hampshire Henri Arger bought five rundowns and abandoned hill farms totalling 295 acres at an average of $80 an acre. Now he has a profit, of $5,000 a year where little or none was before, and he has added $10,000 worth of buildings. He cleared out weeds and stumps, and planted legumes and grasses yielding good pasturage for his dairy herds.

In the Michigan sand dunes country, measures are being taken

not only to stop further encroachment of the dunes on good land, but the dunes themselves are being reforested and restored to value producing properties.

Eventually, it is expected pine forests will grow on the dune acres to produce pulpwood and lumber, as well as Christmas trees.

Strip mine land at DuQuoin, Ill., is being turned into pastureland for beef cattle. Flying over the rugged terrain one plane seeded 600 acres in eight hours by sowing 50-foot swaths from the air.

In New Hampshire Henri Arger bought five rundowns and abandoned hill farms totalling 295 acres at an average of $80 an acre. Now he has a profit, of $5,000 a year where little or none was before, and he has added $10,000 worth of buildings. He cleared out weeds and stumps, and planted legumes and grasses yielding good pasturage for his dairy herds.

In the Michigan sand dunes country, measures are being taken

not only to stop further encroachment of the dunes on good land, but the dunes themselves are being reforested and restored to value producing properties.

Eventually, it is expected pine forests will grow on the dune acres to produce pulpwood and lumber, as well as Christmas trees.

Chicago, Aug. 1 (AP)—Millions of once productive acres, long left for dead or dying, now are being nursed back to health, an Associated Press survey shows.

The comeback of the wasteland is valued at millions of dollars a year and is taking place in cut-over timberlands, strip-mined coal producing areas, overgrazed grasslands and pastures, sand dune tracts, and over-cropped regions.

In New England, the middle west, local residents and various governmental agencies have combined forces to recapture lost lands. Some of the land is going into forests for lumber and paper, some into grass for cattle.

F. A. Fisher, Milwaukee, Wis., directing land utilization projects for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, in eight north central states, declares there are 48,000,000 acres of submarginal land now in cultivation throughout the nation which should be retired to other uses, such as range, timber, wildlife sanctuaries, and recreational facilities.

This is in addition to the 282,000,000 acres estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as already lost through wind and water erosion.

Paul O. Rudolph, U. S. forester at St. Paul, Minn., declared, "If all the land needing reforestation were planted on a sustained yield management plan, paper and lumber shortages would vanish." (Such a plan means taking out trees as they ripen and replanting a young tree for each old one removed.)

Reforestation experts claim the future of the newsprint, paper, and lumber industries in the middle-west lies in the drive to plant 12,500,000 acres of trees in Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Wisconsin pulp mills now must bring in cordwood from Idaho and Oregon and also must import from Canada.

A fifth of Wisconsin's industrial workers are employed in pulp, paper, and lumber mills, but the $300,000,000 annual sales are in jeopardy because of the dwindling source of supply.

Typical of the new "plant to prosper" campaign taking place on the cut-over timber areas of the three states is what is being done around Spooner, Wis. There crawler type tractors draw tree-planting machines which can prepare the earth and plant 15,000 trees a day.

In Indiana some 45,000 acres of strip-mined land are being converted from waste to worth.

Dodgers Sweep Doubleheader From Stroudsburg, 5-0 and 10-6

Braun, Hurls 4-Hit Shutout; Kowalski Has 2 Triples, Homer

Manager Buck Farmer of the Stroudsburg Poconos tried to confuse the Dodgers with a couple of pitchers who distinguished themselves for nothing except the length of their names last night at municipal stadium and the results were disastrous.

Back home after a disastrous road trip, the victory-famished league leaders teed off on a couple of gentlemen by names of Dick Golembeski and Babe Wengrenovich for a pair of easy wins, 5-0 and 10 to 6. The double win boosted the Dodger lead to a respectable four-game margin, as Peckskill trounced Carbondale 9 to 4. The budding Dodger streak was extended to four straight.

Braun Hurls Shutout

Lefty Ken Braun, who mysteriously saves his best performances for the stadium, achieved his second straight 4-hit shutout at home in the opener. He was up for a return engagement in the afterpiece, salvaging a game for Johnny Zigmund, who was entrusted with one of his rare starting assignments.

Braun shared the brass medal with Walt Kowalski, who crashed two triples and a homer and drove in seven runs in the two sets. Brian Kerr came up with five hits, while the fielding heroics of Chris Kiltos and Kowalski were something to behold.

Player Injured

Schick, Stroudsburg left fielder, was considered here to be in the fourth inning of the nightcap attempting to break up a double play. He had walked and when the next batter, Santora, rapped to shortstop, Kiltos threw to Bobby Newhard, who made the ball force and then slammed the ball straight into Schick's face when the latter came tearing, head high into second. It was an accident, of course, and after taking a long course, Schick had to retire from the game. He was later treated at the Kingston Hospital for a broken nose and then released.

The Poconos are in for two more games tonight, first contest at 6:30. Alton Gilbert will pitch the opener. It will be the Poconos' final game of the season here.

Braun pitched a masterful 4-hitter in the opener and was released in serious trouble. He walked only two and was assisted by two fast double plays.

Kowalski Batting Star

The Dodgers reached Golembeski for a hit in every inning. The payoff came in the third when Kowalski rifled his 14th triple of the season atop the 390 marker in left center scoring Kiltos and Williams followed with a two-bagger to left.

Kowalski drove a Wengrenovich high over the embankment near the 390-foot marker with two aboard in the fifth inning of the nightcap for a 6-2 Dodger margin. Wengrenovich was routed when he lost control in the next frame and was succeeded by Tom Sharkey who fanned five but was tagged for several lusty blows. Zigmund, still shackled by wildness, pitched a long game as they say in the dugouts. He was constantly behind the batters and even though stalked to a 7-2 lead at the end of the seventh, he couldn't hold it.

Zigmund Routed

Stroudsburg's bid for victory in the eighth opened with a pass to Marshall. Taylor slammed a double to center, scoring Marshall and raced home when O'Leary hit the bag of the 390-foot embankment with a double. Zigmund got Grothenhouse on a pop fly but was given the hook when Santora started the Stroudsburg bench with a 400-foot circuit clout to right center. Braun came in to put out the fire. The game ended when Williams started a snappy double play on Marshall's hot grounder to first.

Chris Kiltos played a sensational game at shortstop, robbing Poconos of several base hits. Kowalski also was outstanding at third.

Subway World Series Appears In the Bag for Yanks, Dodgers

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

A Subway World Series, founded on two dazzling western trips by the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, appeared likely as the clubs headed into August, normally the head of the stretch in the baseball pennant races.

Thirteen straight victories by the under-rated Brooks have given Manager Burt Shotton's men a commanding 10-game lead over the New York Giants and the defending St. Louis Cardinals.

The Yankees have opened up a 12-game margin on the defending Boston Red Sox.

Brooklyn's feat has been more exceptional than the Yanks' because the Dodgers were not supposed to be in the same class with the Cardinals.

In sweeping three straight from St. Louis at Sportsman's Park, the third by a 2-1 margin yesterday, the Dodgers left the champs hanging on the ropes.

Home Advantage Fades

St. Louis has 59 games to play as compared to 55 for the Dodgers but their overwhelming advantage in home games now has largely disappeared and they must fight it out on even ground against that staggering 10-game deficit.

Even Howie Pollet, the old Dodger-tamer, failed Manager Eddie Dyer although he pitched a home game, normally good enough to win. They were tied at 1-1 going to the ninth when Pee Wee Reese tripled down the right field foul line to score Bruce Edwards with the winning run.

The Cardinals certainly went down fighting. Joe Medwick led off the ninth with a double, Dyer used Chalk Diering as a pinch runner and Marly Marton advanced him to third with a sacrifice bunt. Pinch hitter Terry Moore rapped sharply to third baseman Johnny Jorgensen who tagged Diering off third base. Pinch hitter Del Rice fled to end the game.

Lombardi Wins Sixth

It was a sixth win for little Lombardi, recently reinstated as a starter, and a ninth loss for Pollet, a 21-game winner last year.

The New York Giants also helped the Dodgers build up their lead by bowing to Cincinnati, 8-7. The defeat left the Giants 10 full games back of the Brooks. Grady Hatton's three-run homer in the eighth turned the tide after earlier clouts by Johnny Miller and Walker Cooper. It was No. 31 for Miller.

Dutch Leonard, whose American League release appears to have been an embarrassing mistake, posted his 12th victory for Ben Chapman's Phillies, a 3-0 live-hit shutout over the Chicago Cubs.

Rinn washed out the Boston at Pittsburgh game and "diverting weather" postponed the Detroit at New York game although the sun shone most of the afternoon on the Yankee Stadium.

Boxing Rout

Cleveland swept its three-game set from the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, on a pair of homers by Manager Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon.

Bob Savage stifled a last-inning spurt by Chicago to save Philadelphia's Bill Dietrich his fourth victory over Ed Lopat, 3-2. Savage finally retired Cass Michaels after Rudy York's double and Luke Appling's single helped pull the Sox within one run of a tie.

Fickey Haefer continued his efficient pitching, scattering five St. Louis hits for a 4-1 Washington triumph. It was the sixth success for the little southpaw and his third in a row. During the last 27 innings he has allowed only two runs and 13 hits.

Carl "Butch" Sawatski, Bloomingdale's heavy slugging catcher, who will be seen in action at the stadium Saturday and Sunday nights, cracked his 27th, 28th and 29th home runs of the season last night, as the Troopers trounced Nazareth in both ends of a doubleheader, 17 to 15, and 19 to 2.

Sawatski recently hit four homers against the Dodgers in three games, and drove in 14 runs.

Joe, Kelly, Freeman editorial employee and one of the best known sports writers in the State, was discharged from Kingston Hospital Thursday noon and is now resting at his home, 256 Hasbrouck avenue.

Mr. Kelly entered the hospital Tuesday for observation and X-rays. A few months ago he suffered a left arm and has suffered almost constant discomfort. He has been ordered by his physician to remain quiet for several days.

Chez Emile Wins Two; Ev Francis Bangs 598 Score

Dick Howard's idle trundlers remained on top of the Summer Mixed League standings after Wednesday's matches but veteran railbirds at the Central Recreation lanes are eyeing the resurgent Chez Emile five and second place only one and a half games off the pack.

Howard's club has won 21 and dropped 12 while Chez Emile has won the same number but has dropped three more decisions. Chez Emile went into second place this week by tripping Sang's team in two out of three.

Ev Francis Stars

Touching off the Francis combine, a 2 to 1 winner over Schrivers, was petite Evelyn Francis who cracked the mid-town maples for a sizzling 598 triple on a high-light singleton of 232. Jim Daniels followed Ev with a 181 single and 522 series. The double defeat dropped Schrivers to the fifth place with 521. Sang's team, the Silver Slivers topped the losing legions with a 208 single and 547 triple.

Rose Schatzel led the Chez Emile club with a 194 single game and 559 three-time while Johnny Red Schatzel followed with 521. "Red" Sang smashed a 190 game and 493 triple for his defeated followers.

In the only other match on the program the fast-stepping Cardinals pulled into undisputed possession of third place by copping a pair from Haber-Gill. John Ferraro smashed a 532 triple and Fay Horne fired a high single of 194 for the Cards. Tony LaRocca anchored the losers with a 193 single and 514 triple.

The postponed Howard-Sam's Restaurant match will be played at a later date.

MAKE IT THE MCCOY: In these days when there is much ado about a suitable war memorial for Kingston, permit us to put in our two cents worth. The campaign for funds for such a memorial, launched several months ago, has to date proved a futile gesture. We also hear of a movement to tie up a memorial angle with the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. While both of these projects have considerable merit, they do not represent the real solution of a problem; and obligation the citizens of Kingston must face, if they are sincere about a war memorial.

The "Live" Tribute:

It goes without saying that the memorial, no matter what form, shape or manner it assumes, must be a "live" tribute to our war dead. The thousands of war veterans in the Kingston area are going to suffer terrible disappointment if the mountains labors to bring forth the mouset of a dinky statue on capital hill. Such an eventuality could materialize. The streets are crowded with citizens who probably thing a war memorial is a wonderful thing, some thing we really should have. But talk, ballyhoo, carpet bagging opportunists seeking to cash in on some cheap publicity, will not effect the building of a proper recognition to the victims of World War 2.

A Swimming Pool:

We offer two suggestions. The first, a municipal swimming pool, a project that could be used by every man, woman and child and would be a credit to the City of Kingston. It is an indictment of our municipal setup that a city of 30,000 does not have a single swimming pool worthy of the name. Thousands of Kingstonians are forced to travel thousands of miles yearly in order to enjoy bathing. A combination swimming pool-playground and outdoor municipal theatre in an area like Hasbrouck Park would be a simple, useful, "live" tribute to the war dead and an asset to the community. It would cost plenty of money as all worthwhile projects do. It is up to the people of Kingston to decide if they are sincere in their desire to build such a memorial. It's up to them to decide if the sacrifices of the war dead were great enough to justify such an expenditure. We don't think there is any argument there.

Revamp the Stadium:

The second suggestion would consist of a complete refurbishing of municipal stadium. By that we mean increased wattage for the lighting system, a new drainage system and a cover for the grandstand. These together with a general revision of the layout as to permit greater facilities for baseball spectators would form the substance of the project.

In time of war you are told that men, money and materiel are expendable items. So expendable are men when the heat is on, that they are valued at $10,000 a head. Those are the hard cold facts. We make this distasteful observation, because we anticipate a storm of protests from tax-minded persons who will offer the cheapest and easiest of all rebuttals: "The city can't afford it." If we are sincere about this "living" war memorial, we can afford it. It's not a one-year or 10-year proposition. It will stand as a memorial as long as mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts remember that 385,000 of America's finest specimens of manhood once got a one-way ticket to oblivion. And that's going to be a long, long time.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Mrs. Norris Dauchy, the Dutchess County Club ace who won the Twaalfskill Ladies' Day tournament, in brilliant 5-handicap golfer. . . . In firing a pair of 45s to capture gross honors, she negotiated No. 3 hole in par 3s both times around. . . . Some of our finest male "pros" find that a difficult task. . . . Lou Smith called in to inform us that Twaalfskill is playing Red Hook this Sunday and not August 10 as previously mentioned. . . . Maud "Lefty" McDerroft, Jr., son of the old Kingston City star, playing with Scranton in the Eastern League, recently had a streak in which he struck out 40 batters in three games. . . . He fanned 12 against Wilkes Barre, 14 against Elmira and 15 against Utica. . . . Bill Tierney's holding is the sensation of the City League. . . . Bill could step in with the Kingston Dodgers right now and do a good job. . . . City League managers will assist us in selecting the all-star squad for the August 30 contest against the New York Police. . . . The game is sponsored by the Kingston Police Department.

MULLIGAN MIKE says, funny doings in Washington these days. They're spending a barrel of money exposing how a lot of guys became millionaires with a blonde on their knees while GI Joe was roaming all over the globe at $50 a month, trying to recall the last time he saw a blonde.

The entry fee is $10 per team which will cover registration for each player with the Amateur Softball Association. Entries must be marked not later than August 13 and mailed to William G. Seal, Poughkeepsie Recreation Commission, 35 Market street, Poughkeepsie. His telephone is 2083.

Subway 2 Upsets Central Lunch

Subway Grill No. 2 upset the powerful Central Lunch, 2 to 2, yesterday in a City Softball League contest backing George Brown's fifty-four-hitter with brilliant fielding. Frank Bailey was outstanding at third base. It was one of the prize reversals of form this season.

Subways racked up two runs in the second on four straight singles by Scott, Norton, Riggins and Brown. Central Lunch held it at 2-2 in the third when Joe Albany singled and Jack Ruzzo doubled.

The winning margin crossed in the fourth when Brown singled, advanced on an outfield error and scored on Bailey's single.

Moham, Netter, Norton and Brown had two hits each for the Subway while Ruzzo hit safely twice for the losers.

Fonder Wins, Sets Record
Philadelphia, Aug. 1 (AP)—George Fonder of Lansdale, Pa., set a 25-lap track record at the Yellow Jacket Speedway last night to win the midweek car Belmont Handicap. Fonder's time of 5:27.79 bested the previous record of 5:35.58 set by Edward (Dutch) Schaefer, Floral Park, L. I., finishing in third was Johnny Ringer, Bronx, N. Y., followed by Schaefer, Mike Joseph, Philadelphia; Leo (Shorty) McAndrews, Allentown,

Waterbury Timers Tie Poughkeepsie

(By The Associated Press)
The Waterbury Timers and Poughkeepsie Giants rook along today in a tie for leadership in the Colonial Baseball League, each having achieved one-sided triumphs last night, the Timers downing Port Chester 12 to 3 and the Giants defeating Stamford 15 to 4.

New London, still far behind but trying to overtake third place Stamford, beat the fifth place Bridgeport club 8 to 5.

Waterbury scored eight runs, helped by Stamford's starting pitcher, Puerto Rican Francisco Sostre, in five and a third innings, but uncovered some weaknesses in its own pitching staff. Giving Vern Taylor a rest after six innings, the Giants sent Paul Branca to the mound, and he walked six men in the two innings he worked. Branca, one of three brothers of the Brooklyn Dodgers' Ralph Branca who are playing in the Colonial League, was given his release after the game.

Bridgeport used 15 of its 17 eligible players in a futile effort to stop the New London Raiders, but poor fielding on Bridgeport's made the task of New London's two pitchers, Bedell and Woodtke, comparatively easy although they were touched for a total of 10 hits.

Frank's Blast Fullers, 15-4

Frank's Sport Shop pounded out 11 hits, while Bob Maroney was yielding only four, to crush Fullers 15 to 4, yesterday at the armory diamond.

"Rocky" Maxson was the individual batting star with a "4 for 1" night, with two doubles and two singles. Ray Lindhurst, Bill Tierney and Bosco Tomassie led three hits, with Ronnie Crosby, Whitey Evans and Bob Maroney, solving two each for Frank's. The winners scored 9 times in the fourth.

Lindhurst and Link Crosby poked homers, while Tommy Maines, of Fullers, was thrown out at the plate after a tremendous blast to left field.

The score:

Bigler Suffers First Setback

Walt Bigler, Subway Grill No. 2 pitching ace, suffered his first defeat of the season in the City Softball League yesterday, as Village Rest edged the Subways, 6 to 4, on the Port Ewen diamond.

Cliff Davis paced the winners with a pair of doubles, while Frank Quatere poked a two-bagger for the losers.

Joe Sweeney started for Village Rest but was relieved by Bill Ferguson, who was credited with the win.

The score:

Immaculates Trounce K. of C. Musters, 11-4

The Immaculate Conception softball squad routed the Knights of Columbus, 11-4, in a Catholic League contest at Block Park this week.

The winners hopped on Joe Enright, Knights' twirling ace, for three runs in the first. Clyde Carter cracked a home run for the winners, while Geary's three safeties paced the Knights. McCordie poked two triples and two singles for the losers.

In the previous game between the clubs, Enright had pitched a one-hitter.

Walcott Nomination Stirs Up Controversy

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—From now until November 14 at least, the big question in Madison Square Garden's cauliflower patch will be: "When is a contender not a contender?"

Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N. J., is the gentleman of the uncertain ring status who, some insist, can't win for losing.

Sol Strauss, acting director of the 20th Century Sporting Club, emphasized the "non-title" aspect of the contest. But this emphasis only served to stir up controversy.

Presupposing Walcott should become suddenly imbued instead of embalm, and either knocks out or wins a clear-cut decision over the Brown Bomber.

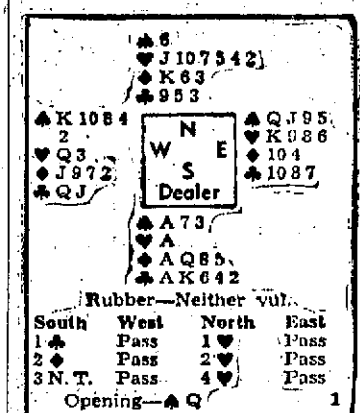

Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, said he believed the "ancient law of custom" would prevail and that Walcott would be regarded as champion if he should hang a key on Joe.

Abe Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, said that "no commission could deny his title claim."

It was pointed out that under New York rules, a title match must be contested for 15 rounds. Thus the non-title phase in this scheduled 10-rounder.

Leading Low Card Proper Safety Play

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
American Card Authority
Written for N.E.A. Service

Safety plays are difficult to describe with all four hands in view, but when I show only two of the four hands, many readers complain that they cannot follow the play well. Therefore, I can only suggest that to get the full benefit of today's hand, you cover up the East and West cards.

The bidding is quite normal. Under no circumstances should North allow his partner to play the hand as three no trump. As a matter of fact, South's jump to three no trump over two hearts should indicate some hearts strength.

Now let's get down to the safety play. You have the East and West cards covered, and you can see that declarer is missing six trumps.

His probable losers are a club and at least two heart tricks. In wins the opening spade lead in dummy and cashes the ace of hearts. He leads a small diamond from dummy to his king. Which heart should he lead from his hand?

If the hearts were divided three-three, it would be immaterial whether he led the four or the jack of hearts. He would lose only two heart tricks anyway. However, if the hearts were divided four-two, he would lose three heart tricks by leading the jack.

The proper safety play is to lead the four of hearts. West wins and when declarer gets in with a spade ruff, he leads the jack of hearts. East wins this with the nine of hearts with his ten. Thus he loses two heart tricks.

Cantine Donates Permanent Dams For Club's Pool

Woodstock, Aug. 1.—Through the generosity of Holly R. Cantine, charter member, past president and at present a director of the Woodstock Country Club, the members may long enjoy the beautiful new swimming pool which will be officially opened by Mr. Cantine Saturday afternoon.

A festive program has been arranged for the day in acknowledgment of this splendid contribution which will add so much to the many privileges already enjoyed by club members. There will be swimming exhibitions in the afternoon and a dinner party in the evening to be followed by dancing. Theodore King, chairman of the entertainment committee will be in charge of these events.

Another feature of particular interest will be the exhibition of work by artists including Frank Chase, Mrs. Ernest Barclay, Harry Hohnhorst, Mrs. Theodore King, Clarence J. McCarthy, Walter Peters, Dulcy Peters, Walter Seaton, president of the Woodstock Country Club, Harry Temple, Mrs. Charles Westcott, Sam Wiley, Earl Winslow, Murrey Hoffman and Mrs. Richard Stillwell.

One of the great difficulties in the pool used heretofore was the damage done to the dam in the winter and early spring seasons when the Sawkill creek on which the club is situated, rises to unusual heights and results in annual repairs. The new pool boasts of two dams, one built of stone about four feet high and the other of solid concrete about 12 feet in depth and four feet in width. The construction work for this project was done by The Martin Cantine Company.

Holly R. Cantine is president and owner of the Martin Cantine Company in Saugerties. This nationally known paper company was founded by Mr. Cantine's father in 1888. Holly Cantine has been associated with the company for more than 40 years.

Marsh McLeod Will Be Wed in Montana

Woodstock, Aug. 1.—The engagement of Marsh McLeod, popular member of the Woodstock Playhouse Company has been announced to Horton Rorick, now studying at Yale.

At the end of the Playhouse season Miss McLeod and Mr. Horton will be married in their home town of Missoula, Montana. They will make their home in New York, where Mr. Rorick will study law at Columbia University. It is expected that Miss McLeod will be seen on Broadway this fall and winter.

Library Fair announces a special sale to be held at the schoolhouse collection center, Woodstock, on Wednesday afternoon, August 6 from two until five o'clock.

In the sale will be found street and evening dresses, coats, sweaters, shoes for men and women, hats, men's suits and many other useful articles which were not disposed of at the Fair. Many of these articles will be sold for less than one dollar. The proceeds will be added to those already reported for the Library Fair.

Around the Village

Woodstock, Aug. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. George Hard have had as guests this week, their sisters, Mrs. Adrian Skinner, Danbury, Conn., and Miss Kay Donahue, Philadelphia, Pa.

Doris Murray and Frank McGahill were the winners in the two-ball, four-ball tournament held at the Woodstock Country Club last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hannah, Ardmore, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Hannah's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer, Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lapo are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter, Margaret Sharon, born Tuesday in the Kingston Hospital. Richard Lapo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lapo, Woodstock.

Ernest Yacovino, one of the Maverick Players, received a pleasant surprise Wednesday evening following the opening performance of "They Knew What They Wanted" in which he plays the leading role, when he was greeted backstage by three friends from Brooklyn, who had driven from New York for the opening.

They were Dennis (Red) Geegan, former contender for welterweight world championship, Fred Caputo and Frank Connelley.

A weaving exhibition of student work is now being held in the workshop of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

Ford Company

he would follow the Ford recommendations.

Refusing to grant the union a contract clause protecting it against the liability provision of the labor law, Ford said his firm resented having been chosen "as the guinea pig in an effort by the U.A.W. to veto those parts of a federal statute which it does not happen to like."

"The union," Ford said, "is asking us to include in our new agreement a provision which would in effect nullify certain provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law."

"This we cannot agree to do. We respect and obey the laws of the land and cannot be party to placing unions above the law."

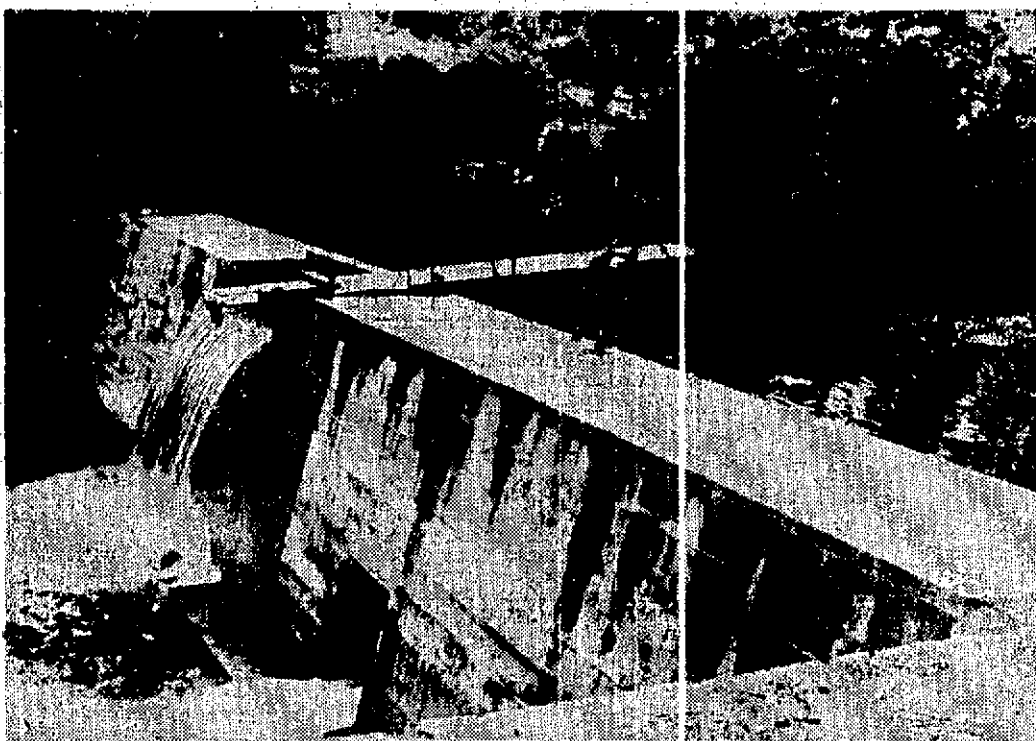

Ford said the company "merely asks the union to 'act in good faith' to avoid illegal strikes or threats of such strikes. In return, he said, the company pledges its 'good faith' not to claim damages if the umpire finds in the union's favor."

Ford and the union also are in dispute over a pension plan, once tentatively agreed upon to go with a seven cent an hour wage increase and six paid holidays a year.

Woodstock Pool Again Is in Operation

Summer Theatres Topic at Kiwanis

Morton DaCosta, Manager of Cragmoor, Is Speaker

Summer theatres, with good productions and proper exploitation, giving the public exactly what it is looking for, can be as successful as the Broadway theatre. That was the opinion of Morton DaCosta, managing director of the Cragmoor Theatre, who addressed members of the Kingston Kiwanis Thursday.

DaCosta emphasized that if a play is properly publicized, with no advance ballyhoo propaganda building it up above the public's expectations, it will prove its own worth. The best method for progress in the summer theatre profession, he advocated, is to present a good play and leave it up to theatre patrons to publicize its worth by word of mouth. He maintained that if customers enjoy a good presentation, they will invariably serve as the most effective press agents for the theatre.

Just as in any other business, he said, you get out of the summer theatre what you put into it. And he hastened to explain that the success of his own company is based on the fact that he and his entire troupe are trying to do their best in their particular profession.

The Cragmoor Theatre was reopened last year by DaCosta who during the war years was operating a summer theatre in Wisconsin. When he first invested in this theatre, DaCosta said, practically five years of debris had littered in the barn, which now serves as the playhouse. The initial response to his theatre productions was far from a criterion of its present standing and success.

The Cragmoor seats only 300 persons, and during its first week's opening the management operated at a loss. However, word quickly spread about the reopening, and in the next 10 weeks the management realized a profit of more than $7,000. This, DaCosta said, was the result of his group's earnest efforts to present plays that rate high in theatre standings.

DaCosta's current success and recognition is the fruit of 15 years in the theatre profession. He has played to the public in almost every city of considerable size throughout the country. While operating in the small town of Port Washington, about 25 miles outside of Milwaukee, Wis., he discovered that at first the response was highly unfavorable, but as time went on his business flourished and business in that community was tripled, due to the fact that so many people from surrounding states visited the place to see his productions.

Condition Unchanged
Thelma Hahn, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Hahn, 55 Sycamore street, who was injured Tuesday evening when struck by an automobile on Yeomans street, remains in "good" condition, it was reported at the Kingston Hospital today.

Seeking Foster Homes for Children

The Catholic Home Bureau, a placing agency of the Catholic Charities, is making a special effort here to secure homes for dependent children. The above are three sisters and their brother, who would be very happy in a foster home.

Foster Homes for Children Are Sought in County

Believing that the upper tier of counties of the Archdiocese of New York, and Ulster, in particular, offer exceptional advantages for child development, the Catholic Home Bureau, a placing agency of the Catholic Charities, is making a special effort to secure foster homes for dependent children, especially family groups of two and three in Kingston and surrounding area.
Visiting this city today is Joseph P. Cashin, administrative assistant of the Catholic Home Bureau in charge of the counties division. After a conference with the Very Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, Mr. Cashin is planning to remain in Kingston for several days visiting pastors and social agencies.
"Our work at present lays stress on finding homes for groups of brothers and sisters," Mr. Cashin explained. "Little blue-eyed girls are easy to place and lively boys readily find foster homes but households that break up frequently comprise two or three youngsters who are old enough to remember and are greatly attached to each other."
"It takes a Catholic family with a sizable house, play yard attached, and a large heart to take in these little ones. But the reward is very great in satisfaction and the knowledge of a good deed well done. On the social side, the presence of young lives in a home keeps the elders alert and feeling young."
"Kingston ideally adjusts itself to this work. Many of our little charges come from the upper counties and are at home here already. All quickly expand under loving family care."
"Monsignor Drury suggests that anyone who is interested should contact the Kingston office of the Catholic Charities, or the office of the Department of Welfare, for information in detail regarding the boarding of children."

Hopson Named

GEORGE H. HOPSON
Dr. George H. Hopson of Millbrook has been elected president of the New York State Veterinary Medical Society, succeeding Dr. M. G. Fincher, professor of medicine, Cornell Veterinary College, Ithaca.
The election was held Saturday at the conclusion of the Society's 36th annual 3-day meeting at the Grand Union Hotel, Saratoga Springs.
Dr. Hopson, who grew up on a dairy farm near Massena, is considered to be the outstanding national authority on the milk production system of the dairy cow and on modern dairy practices. His lectures on these important subjects have been heard by farmers and dairy leaders throughout the United States and Canada.
A graduate of the Cornell College of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Hopson is also active on various committees of the International Association of Milk Sanitarians and is a member of the committee on methods of the American Veterinary Medical Association. He is associated with the De Laval Separator Company as veterinarian and milk sanitarian.

Van Alstyne Says
Bicycle Struck Auto

Orville Van Alstyne, 69 Roosevelt avenue, superintendent of the Callanan Road Improvement Co., reported to the police about 3:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon that as he was driving up Wilbur avenue near Dunne street, a girl riding a bicycle ran into his car.
Efforts to obtain the identity of the girl were without avail. Mr. Van Alstyne said she got back on her bicycle and rode away. The girl was not injured, the driver told police.

British Tell U. S.
New Cuts Ahead
In World Help

Washington, Aug. 1 (AP)—Britain, because of her belt-tightening economic plight, has told the United States informally she must make sharp new cuts in her world stability commitments.
The reason: To stretch for use at home a fast-dwindling supply of American dollars.
Diplomatic authorities said today the informal talks have been going on for several days, centering primarily on revising the Anglo-American agreement for Germany's occupation.
Under terms of that agreement signed last December, the two countries merged their occupation zones for economic purposes with costs split on a fifty-fifty basis.
But, because many of the basic needs for German occupation fall in a category of supplies in which Britain herself is deficient, the British have been forced to turn to the United States for the purchases, paying for their part of the load in dollars.
British officials here insist that there has been no formal request as yet for a change in the fifty-fifty formula. Rather, they have put it to their American colleagues in this way:
It has become apparent that Britain will run out of dollar credits, perhaps within the next six to eight months, and must reduce imports for which dollar payments are required. If she reduces such imports at home, it is obvious she cannot pay for similar imports to be sent to Germany.
Under the fifty-fifty plan, Congress appropriated $600,000,000 to pay occupation costs in Germany, Japan and Korea. Of this amount $267,000,000 was earmarked for Germany and—barring the plan's revision—would have to be matched by Britain.
The gravest of Britain's economic predicament was underscored only this week with the disclosure that she had withdrawn another $300,000,000 of her year-old American loan. This left only $1,000,000,000 of the $3,750,000,000 original credit.

Man Is Injured
In Milton Crash;
Taken to Hospital

State Police of the Highland Barracks said this morning that a 1937 sedan, operated by Edward A. Viano, 40, of Greenville, crashed on 9W near Milton about 12:30 this morning.
Viano, who was traveling north, fell asleep at the wheel, troopers said, and the car ran into a ditch hitting a tree. Viano sustained a leg fracture, lacerations of the head and face and abrasions of the chest. He was rushed to Vassar Hospital in one of the hospital's ambulances called by Trooper Elliot Johnson, who investigated the accident.
The car was badly damaged.

Gets 10 Days in Jail
Lewis De Groodt, 59, of Wallkill, was arrested there yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Harry Keator on a charge of disorderly conduct.
Arraigned before Justice of the Peace, Seth Lippencott, Wallkill, De Groodt was fined $10 or to spend 10 days in jail. Failure to pay the fine resulted in De Groodt's being sent to the county jail.
